Katherine, would you like to entirely replace the current text? If yes, the yellow highlight is information that would be removed. It is entirely up to you.

Here is the new text:

Also, thank you for the changes to the Eurasia section – I got them! Would you like me to make the Eurasia page consistent with this new language?

Thanks, Evonne. I made a few tweaks to the Eurasia section. The Europe section looks fine. The Asia-Pacific Section looked fine too. Hopefully my edits saved. When looking at version control, it looks like they did at 7:21pm.

Thanks and best wishes,
Katherine

Thanks to those who have responded, and reminder to everyone else to please have a look at your section by COB tomorrow. As you'll see it's literally just a paragraph for each section plus a few links, and should look familiar from your general regional pages.

Thanks!
Evonne

Hi all,
I'm in the process of updating the "Where EPA Works Around the World" website, which has an entryway into each of our regional pages, as attached and seen below. I have made some revisions to update each of the descriptions below, based on the current language on each regional entry page (for example, the North America language here now matches the language on our top level North America website).

Could you please have a quick look at the text and links below and let me know if you have any requested changes to how your region is described here? You can make changes in the attached sharepoint document. I need this by COB Friday because the page expires on Monday. I put your name next to the ones that I think require your review (mainly based on the contact information on the regional pages), but if I should add anyone else to this email chain, please let me know.

Thank you very much for your help!

Evonne
